

Centre for Canadian Irish Studies Centre d'études canado-irlandaises

PRESENTS • PRÉSENTE

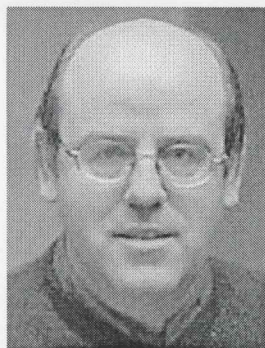

INAUGURAL ANNUAL COLLOQUIUM BY DISTINGUISHED
FELLOW OF THE CENTRE FOR CANADIAN IRISH STUDIES
COLLOQUE INAUGURAL ANNUEL DU CENTRE D'ÉTUDES
CANADO-IRLANDAISES

DR. KEVIN WHELAN

Smurfit Director of the Keough-Naughton Notre Dame Center in Ireland

Membre distingué du Centre d'études canado-irlandaises de l'Université Concordia et Directeur Smurfit du Centre Keough-Naughton de l'Université Notre-Dame, Irlande

"Writing Northern Ireland: History, Memory and Politics in Heaney, Friel and Deane"

October 22, 23 and 24, 2007 at 8.30pm
Les 22, 23 et 24 octobre 2007 à 20 h 30

Room/Salle: H-1220
Pavillion Hall Building
Université Concordia University
1455, boul de Maisonneuve Ouest

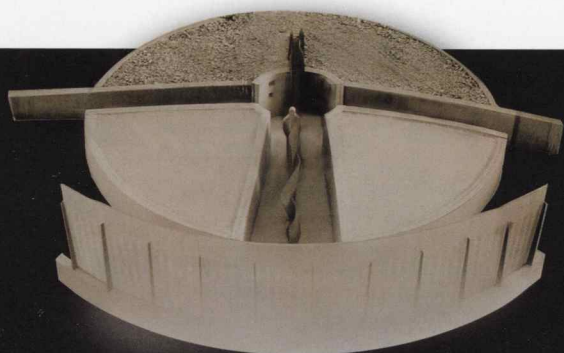

Free Admission - Entrée libre

Kevin Whelan, a native of County Wexford, is one of Ireland's best known and widely published scholars. He has published fourteen books and almost 100 articles on Ireland's history, geography, and culture. Among these are The Tree of Liberty: Radicalism, Catholicism and the Construction of Irish Identity 1760-1830 (1996), Fellowship of Freedom: The United Irishmen and the 1798 Rebellion (1998), and the bestseller Atlas of the Irish Rural Landscape (1997).

Kevin Whelan compte parmi les chercheurs irlandais les plus réputés et les plus publiés. Originaire du comté de Wexford, en Irlande, M. Whelan a publié quatorze livres et une centaine d'articles sur l'Irlande et son histoire, sa géographie et sa culture, dont The Tree of Liberty: Radicalism, Catholicism and the Construction of Irish Identity 1760-1830 (1996), Fellowship of Freedom: The United Irishmen and the 1798 Rebellion (1998), et le best-seller Atlas of the Irish Rural Landscape (1997).

Concordia
UNIVERSITY

(514) 848-8711

cdnirish@alcor.concordia.ca

<http://cdnirish.concordia.ca>